MONTHLY UPDATE

Markets remained under pressure in October, as concerns about China's outlook weighed on sentiment. The relevant Emerging Markets benchmark fell by another 3.1% in net USD terms.

At the National Party Congress in China, President Xi concentrated his power further by packing the Politburo Standing Committee with loyalists. Nevertheless, the economy is still slowly recovering, aided by stimulus.

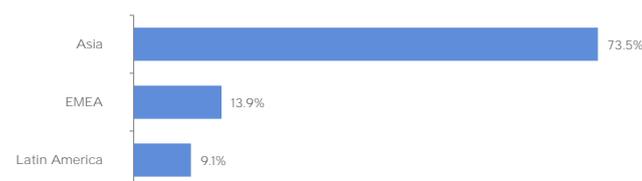

In Brazil, Lula won the second round of the presidential election, beating the incumbent Bolsonaro in a tight race, with 50.9% of the vote. With the political uncertainty fading, Lula promising to be moderate and the domestic macro outlook stabilising, we have been adding to Brazil – for example Assai, a leading food retailer.

We added Indusind Bank to the portfolio, which is highly leveraged to the robust Indian economy, as well as Maruti Suzuki due to our positive view on the Indian passenger vehicle cycle. Meanwhile, we switched from China Pacific Insurance to AIA, where we believe the business model is superior.

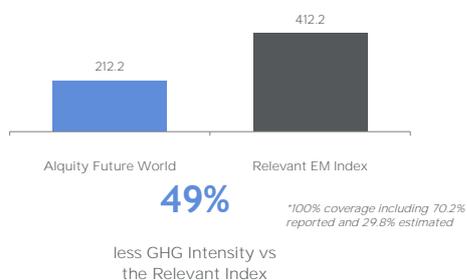

STOCK OF THE MONTH

Uni-President China (UPC) is a leading manufacturer of beverages and instant noodles, benefiting from domestic structural growth in China through an increasing middle-class and a subsequent consumption upgrade trend. UPC's share of premium products has risen over the years as product innovation has led to better tasting products & healthier ingredients. The company also benefits from cyclical tailwinds due to declining raw material costs. UPC operates in a low-risk industry and demonstrates satisfactory ESG performance, therefore, we have scored the company with a C rating for ESG. Historically, UPC's food safety standards have been in best in class and have never needed to recall products in China. Even this year, their competitor (Tingyi) was exposed to the pickled cabbage scandal whereas UPC was not.

PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS AND DETRACTORS

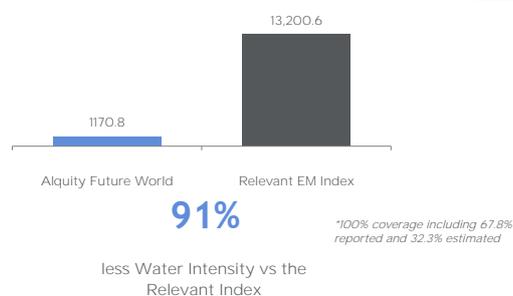

In October, Alquity Future World Y class declined 4.6% in US Dollar terms (net) versus the 3.1% decline in the relevant EM Index.

The vast majority of the underperformance was derived from Korea, where we are significantly underweight. The index rose 8.4% in US Dollar terms during the month, driven by numerous companies that we consider to be ESG fails as well as the poor performance of our holding in LG Household & Health.

The underweight to Energy (for ESG reasons) also was a material negative contributor.

The Fund however benefited from positive stock selection in Brazil, China (notably Wuxi Lead Intelligent Systems and Nissin Foods) and Indonesia.
