MONTHLY UPDATE

Emerging markets rose strongly during June, despite the market volatility caused by France’s surprise snap election announcement.

Narendra Modi was re-elected for a third term in June, albeit with a reduced majority. The BJP won 240 seats in the national elections to the Lok Sabha parliament, with a further 56 won by coalition allies.

In South Africa, the ANC, DA, IFP, PA and others agreed to form a national unity government, with Cyril Ramaphosa being re-elected President of South Africa. Claudia Sheinbaum won the Mexican general election with a landslide victory.

In Brazil, the Copom kept the Selic rate unchanged at 10.5%, but adopted a more cautious tone and indicated a shift towards a tighter monetary policy stance.

We exited Jahez in Saudi Arabia due to competition concerns following Meltuan’s announcement of its entry into the Saudi food delivery market later this year. We exited Hanon Systems in Korea due to a lack of near-term catalysts, preferring KIA instead. We added Mr. Price to the fund following South Africa’s formation of the national unity government.

PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS AND DETRACTORS

In June, the Alquity Future World Y class rose 4.1% in US Dollar terms (net) vs the 3.9% rise in the relevant EM index.

This outperformance was driven by stock selection in Taiwan (Tech Hardware) and India (Dixon Technologies), as well as in Indonesia and the Middle East (UAE, Saudi Arabia). However, Brazil (Despegar) was a negative contributor to performance following strong gains in May.

The Fund also benefited from the underweighting to Mexico and China, but suffered from the overweight in Thailand.
