MONTHLY UPDATE

The Indian benchmark rebounded by 2.6% in net USD terms in October, as investors re-assessed the economy's relative resilience to the prospect of weakness in the global economy.

After hiking by a further 50bp in September, the RBI's most hawkish MPC member said that the policy rate was reaching a level that allows past aggressive action to cool inflation. With inflation looking to have peaked, the Bank may slow the pace of tightening at its next meeting in December.

In terms of strategy, we exited Galaxy Surfactants due to concerns about the company's export outlook given the likelihood of recession in Developed Markets. We added Indusind Bank, which is highly leveraged to the robust Indian economy.

PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS AND DETRACTORS

In October, the Alquity India Y class rose 1.2% in US Dollar terms (net) versus the 2.6% rise in the relevant Indian index.

The outperformance of the Energy sector (where we are zero weighted) was a negative contributor to performance, as was the poor performance of Lemon Tree Hotels. Both were meaningfully positive contributors to performance in the previous month.

Stock selection more generally within the consumer discretionary and staples sectors was disappointing during October, although this was partly offset by strong returns from our holdings within the financial sector, notably Axis Bank
