MONTHLY UPDATE

In June, markets remained under pressure as concerns about the global inflation backdrop continued to increase, prompting the US Federal Reserve to announce a larger 75bp interest rate hike. In India, the benchmark declined by a further 6.8% in net USD terms.

Although Indian CPI inflation eased to 7.0% y/y in May, aided by a favourable base and a cut in excise fuel duties, it remains well above target with risks still skewed to the upside. Meanwhile, WPI inflation rose further to 15.9% y/y in May.

As a result, the RBI continued with its front-loaded hiking cycle, raising its policy repo rate by another 50bp to 4.9%, while maintaining its hawkish bias. Further front-loaded tightening is likely, with risks of another 50bp move in August, data depending.

PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS AND DETRACTORS

In June, Alquity India Y class declined 5.5% in US Dollar terms (net) versus the 6.8% decline in the relevant Indian index.

The Energy, Utility and Communication Services sectors outperformed during the month (where we are zero weighted). This was partly offset by the underweight position in the Materials sector and the overweight in the Consumer Discretionary sector.

The overall outperformance was derived from stock selection however, notably in the Industrials sector (Elgi Equipment – compressors, and Jamna Auto – truck springs) and the Financials sector (HDFC Bank).
